

Following in the footsteps of Edmund Husserl, H.R. Phillips digs into the very reality structure we are all a part of - to reveal some simple yet astonishing truths about `space and `spaces. Indeed, as you will find out, Phillips maintains there is ONLY types of space - and NO time (much like renegade Physicist Julian Barbour). The background of this book is based on the idea of explaining Materializations and Manifestations - via the Phillips Phenomenology - which consists of ideas about what `types of spaces exist; - such as the Phillips Phenomenology described Able To Not Be Space, the Not Able To Be Space, and the Not Able To Not Be Space. Phillips even uses the extremes of anomalous phenomena such as Doppelgangers, UFOs and other paranormal experiences to explain the Phillips Phenomenology. Readers of phenomenology material will see similarities between the ideas of Phillips, Sartre and Husserl. Phillips is also the Editor and webmaster of the esoteric blog called `The Heavy Stuff, an internet favorite since 2006. This Kindle book was also a chapter in Robert Cheatham's book called `Materializations and Manifestations - just released in 2012. Phillips also spoke at the book's release party in Atlanta at Poem88. The Slippery Slope Of Now And Real - The Phenomenology Of Actualization is a book full of mindful ideas to challenge your very thinking about the construct of the reality we perceive. Ideas that will ask and explain `What HAPPENS to moments actualized? Ideas that will explain what is equal to REAL itself. So, if you are looking for the short read of a lifetime, - one that you will absorb over and over and over - this is the book for the intellectual side of you. Feed your head.
